Dodgers Crush Yankees With Powerful Rally, 13-8

Brooklyn In Command Of Series

BROOKLYN, Oct. 5 (AP) —The aroused Brooklyn Dodgers staged the greatest winning rally in a World Series game since the 1929 Philadelphia A's today to erase a six-run deficit and whip the pitching-poor New York Yankees 13-8 for their second straight Series victory.

Trailing 6-0 after Yogi Berra's grand slam homer in the second, the Dodgers thrilled 36,217 Ebbets Field fans with a six-run spurt in the second, capped by Duke Snider's 10th Series homer with two on. Joe Collins' costly error on a potential double play ball opened the gates.

While Manager Casey Stengel paraded seven pitchers to the mound for a record in the longest nine-inning Series game ever played, the Dodgers went on to win on a pair of two-run doubles by quiet Gil Hodges, Junior Gilliam's two-run single in the eighth completed the rout of the proud Yanks.

Records fluttered from the press box microphone like leaves from a stricken oak during the wild ball game that packaged a weird mixture of base hits, walks and errors. When the last out was recorded, three hours and 26 minutes after the start, many of the customers already were on the way back to their warm hotel rooms.

As the Brooks rallied in the second, greybeards of the press coop recalled the storied rally by the Athletics who came up with 10 runs in the seventh inning, Oct. 12, 1929 to overcome an 8-0 Chicago Cub lead. That game, 27 years ago, was the famous contest in which Hack Wilson lost Mule Haas' fly ball in the sun for a three-run homer.

Exception

With the exception of Don Bessent, the Dodgers' talented reliefer who became the winning pitcher after big Don Newcombe was chased, the pitchers involved should hang their heads and go stand in the corner. Never have so many accomplished so little.

Those who search Series games for heroes can have their choice. Snider broke his own National League Series record by hitting his 10th homer, tying Lou Gehrig among the all-time greats. Only Babe Ruth's 15 in 10 Series tops it. And this is only the Duke's fifth Series.

The hero - worshippers could have Hodges whose four runs batted in on the pair of doubles made his total seven for two games, only two short of Gehrig's all-time high in 1928.

Only two clubs in Series history have lost the first two and then came back to win. One was the Giants of 1921 in a nine-game set. The other, of course, was the 1955 Brooklyn club.

Collins, inserted into the lineup by Stengel with second baseman Jerry Coleman in a pregame shakeup, made his costly error in the second when he dropped Sandy Amoros' grounder after Hodges had opened the inning with a single. It might have been a double play. Instead the Brooks had two on with nobody out.

Navy Bans McKeon's Bad Discharge

WASHINGTON, Oct. 5 (AP) — Secretary of the Navy Thomas today lifted the bad conduct discharge facing S. Sgt. Matthew C. McKeon for the "death march" of six Marine recruits at Parris Island, S. C., last April.

Thomas also reduced McKeon's court-martial punishment from nine months confinement to three months—leaving him about four weeks to serve—and set aside a $270 fine.

The Secretary upheld the drill sergeant's reduction in rank to private, noting this would involve "a much more substantial financial loss" than the fine.

The bad conduct discharge was the severest penalty imposed in the Aug. 3 sentence of a seven-man court that convicted McKeon of negligent homicide and drinking on duty.

In remitting this part of the sentence, Thomas said, "For him I believe that the real punishment will be always the memory of Ribbon Creek . . .

"Remorse will never leave him."

The 31-year-old career Marine from Worcester, Mass., ordered and led a night disciplinary march last April 8 into marshlands at the Parris Island training depot. Six of the 75 members of the platoon drowned in Ribbon Creek.

Thomas affirmed the court's opinion that McKeon "failed to exercise reasonable care for the safety of the men entrusted to him" and, in upholding his reduction to private, said "just one lapse resulting in such serious consequences is just one lapse too many."

Thomas said that by McKeon's own testimony the drill sergeant acted "on impulse with no previous planning, reconnaissance, evaluation or normal precautionary measures."

Not only was McKeon unfamiliar with the tidal waters in the area, Thomas said, but he also was aware that some of the men in the platoon could not swim.

However, Thomas said a bad conduct discharge would "affect his entire future life and rehabilitation" and seemed "inappropriate."

The Navy secretary said such a discharge would wipe out most of McKeon's veteran's rights and benefits after excellent military service for 11 years including combat action in Korea and World War II.

In New York, attorney Emile Zola Berman, who defended McKeon without fee at his trial, told a reporter:

"I'm very pleased. I think this sentence meets the needs of the case. I am extremely pleased the secretary of the Navy recognized the requirements of justice and acted on it."

Berman said he had talked briefly with McKeon by telephone after the decision. He added that it was his impression McKeon intended to continue his career as a Marine.

Up to now, McKeon actually has not put in any enforced labor. He has remained under restrictions at his off-base home.

He had no immediate comment. At his home, he remarked with what appeared to be a glum expression:

"What can you say?"

He added that Berman had instructed him not to talk.

NOT QUITE SAFE ENOUGH yesterday morning was $1,500 to $1,800 stored in this safe at Stroudsburg Eagles. State Supreme Court Upholds Photo Ban

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 5 (AP)—Pennsylvania's Supreme Court today upheld contempt of court convictions of seven newspapermen for violating a photo ban and said a court's dignity and orderly administration of the press.

"Whether or not freedom of the press is here involved is immaterial since such freedom is subject to reasonable rules seeking maintenance of the court's dignity and orderly administration of justice," wrote Justice John C. Arnold in a majority opinion.

The newsmen were convicted for taking photos of convicted turnpike slayer John Wesley Wable in a corridor of the Westmoreland County Courthouse at Greensburg, Pa., despite a court order banning the taking of photos in courtrooms or in corridors within 40 feet of the entrance to a courtroom. Wable, who has since been executed, was photographed as he was led through a corridor toward a courtroom for sentencing.

Full Dissent

Justice Michael A. Musmanno filed the only full dissent to the court's decision, saying "the Supreme Couht has struck a stinging blow against freedom of the press."

Justice John C. Bell Jr. filed a concurring and dissenting opinion, saying photos were properly banned in courtrooms, entrances to courtrooms and jails but not in corridors.

Each newsman had been fined and given a five-day jail term by the Westmoreland Court. The Supreme Court set aside the jail sentences but imposed the fines.

Deaths Hit 1,141

HARRISBURG, Oct. 5 (AP) — A total of 1,141 persons were reported killed on Pennsylvania's highways during the first eight months of 1956, the state Highways Department said today.

Safe Robbed At Eagles

THIEVES KNOCKED THEIR WAY into a safe at Stroudsburg Eagles Club early yesterday morning and got away with between $1,500 and $1,800.

Stroudsburg State police were called in to investigate shortly after discovery of the theft at 6:15 a. m. Fact that the safe had been broken open was discovered by Granville Shiffer, head trustee. Officials said Shiffer makes a routine survey of club records each Friday morning. Borough police initiated the investigation.

Also called in yesterday to aid in the investigation were fingerprint experts from Wyoming State police barracks.

In charge of the investigation locally are Pfc. Alex Kearn and Sgt. Frank Burmer. Borough police chief James McConnell said the fingerprinting search often pays off in such cases.

Club officials told police that the bar area—where the safe is located—was closed at about midnight. Police said there were no signs of "forced entry" at the club.

A thorough check of club quarters, located on the second and third floors of the 912 Main St. building over Tucker Chevrolet garage, failed to disclose evidence that anyone had tampered with entrances.

Police indicated last night that thieves could have concealed themselves in the cellar of the building or on the top floor—which is generally unused late at night—until closing time. After breaking open the safe and taking the money they could have left by any of the exits.

Investigators said the theft seemed to have been performed by professionals. Police said the thieves first used a heavy weight to knock the combination knob off the safe door.

Once the dial-like combination mechanism had been removed the thieves drove the "drift pin" back until the door unlocked.

Six Nations To Lead Canal Users

LONDON, Oct. 5 (AP)—The Suez Canal Users' Assn. today elected six nations—most favoring moderate courses—to lead the drive for a peaceful settlement of the Suez crisis with Egypt.

The six which will run the new grouping as an executive committee are the United States, Britain, France, Italy, Norway and Iran. A seventh nation will be named when three hesitant countries—Japan, Pakistan and Ethiopia—decide whether or not to join the association. Ethiopia has been mentioned as the likely choice.

Britain and France alone of the six have shown themselves ready to use tough methods to achieve international control of the 103-mile waterway.

Association

A communique issued at the end of the association's inaugural session announced that the executive will meet here early next week to choose an administrator, settle money matters and work out a program of operations.

The association, fathered largely by U.S. Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, was formed by 15 countries which want the Suez Canal placed under international control. Its defined tasks are to facilitate any steps leading to a provisional or final settlement of the canal question.

Leader To Travel With Stevenson

HARRISBURG, Oct. 5 (AP)—Gov. Leader today announced plans to accompany Adlai Stevenson, Democratic presidential candidate, on a two-day campaign tour of California next week.

Meanwhile, at Punxsutawney, James W. Knox, Allegheny County controller and Democratic candidate for state treasurer, blamed the current state tax problems on what he termed "the wastrel years of Republican leadership" in Pennsylvania.

Jury Takes Over In Brink's Case

BOSTON, Oct. 5 (AP)—The nine-week-old trial of eight men charged with the $1,219,000 Brink's robbery went to a Suffolk Superior Court jury tonight after a million words of testimony.

The all-male jury received the case at 10:23 p.m. EDT after an hour and 40-minute charge by Judge Felix Forte.

Judge Forte directed verdicts of acquittal for Joseph F. McGinnis, 52, on charges of armed robbery and breaking and entering.

Charges of being an accessory before the Brink's holdup in 1950, receiving stolen money and conspiracy remained against McGinnis, a Boston liquor store owner.

Two members of the 14-man jury which heard the case were withdrawn from the panel but held in custody of the sheriff in the event needed again. They were Edgar Davenport, 58, and Francis J. Bagge, 36, both of Boston.

In his charge, Judge Forte took the jury step by step through each count of the 13 indictments.

The judge told the jury that if it believes government testimony that defendants Anthony Pino, 48, and Vincent J. Costa, 41, stayed nearby outside Brink's to assist in the robbery they are just as guilty of breaking and entering and armed robbery as if they had gone into the building.

Ironic Twist In Decision

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 5 (AP)—There was an ironic twist in today's decision by the Pennsylvania Supreme Court upholding contempt of court convictions of seven newspapermen.

This is National Newspaper Week.

Big Three Makes U.N. Bid

Ike Opposes 'Third Term' Amendment

WASHINGTON, Oct. 5 (AP)—President Eisenhower said today the constitutional amendment which bars a president from a third term "was not wholly wise."

He dropped that comment into a news conference discussion as to whether this constitutional bar, which became effective in 1951, might lessen the influence of a president in his second term.

Eisenhower discounted the idea, saying:

"I don't believe that a president's influence of his party is lowered too much, for this reason: Certainly, whoever is the aspirant at the end of two terms for president will want that president's support, and will want his blessing."

Eisenhower did not appear to be talking about any possibility that he might want to try for a third term, assuming he wins and serves a second. But he did not discuss that question specifically.

Conference

Today's news conference was on the jovial side, especially when it touched on current political questions.

Eisenhower came to the conference with no announcements, and called for questions. The first one dealt with the statements by Adlai Stevenson, the Democratic presidential nominee, that the Democrats started desegregation of whites and Negroes in the armed forces and that the Republicans have made what Stevenson called a brazen attempt to take credit for civil rights progress.

Eisenhower replied that ever since he took office, there has been "a whole series of efforts directed toward assuring that in every area to which clear federal authority extends" that there be "equality of opportunity for all people."

On a personal note, he said that as far as he knows, "I was the first combat commander that ever used Negroes incorporated actually into white units on the battlefield."

He said this was in World War II's winter of 1944-45. He said this worked out and added, still talking about desegregation in the armed forces:

"When we came in in '53, it looked to us like it was time to take the bull by the horns, and eliminate it all, and this is what we have done."

Turnpike Figure Dies

SCRANTON, Pa., Oct. 5 (AP) — One of seven men accused of conspiracy in connection with construction of the Northeastern Extension of the Pennsylvania Turnpike died today as he was driving in North Scranton.

Police said after a preliminary investigation that George Leuthe, 42, apparently suffered a heart attack. But Dist. Atty. Carlon M. O'Malley said he and Lackawanna County Coroner Dr. Paul Kubasko have decided on an autopsy to determine the cause of death.

Employee

Leuthe was an employe of Rogers Brothers Construction Co., which was associated with the Manu-Mine Research and Development Co. of Reading in mine-filling work under the extension roadway. The state cancelled the contracts after an investigation of the work.

Six-Year Sentences

SCRANTON, Oct. 5 (AP)—Robert E. Kehl, 26, Berwick, and Francis G. Bleacher, 22, Lancaster, each were sentenced to six years and two days in prison today by Federal Judge John W. Murphy for escaping from the Columbia County jail at Bloomsburg, Aug. 11.

Stevenson Accuses Nixon Of Using 'Threadbare Shouts' In Connection With Socialism

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Oct. 5 (AP)—Adlai E. Stevenson criticized Vice President Nixon tonight for using "threadbare shouts" about socialism. He also said the Republicans were using "soft soap" slogans, gimmicks, bandwagons and "infernal machines of modern, high-pressure politics" to re-elect President Eisenhower.

The Democratic presidential nominee, speaking in Yale University's Woolsey Hall, said Nixon in this year's campaign reverted "to the familiar tactics of associating Democrats with socialism."

In his speech prepared for a rally in the university, Stevenson contrasted Nixon's tactics with those of his fellow California Republican, Chief Justice Earl Warren, and said:

"I do not think the American people are going to be much more impressed in 1956 by the vice president's threadbare shouts about communism."

"Hard-hitting, factual debate is the essence of democracy," Stevenson said. "Innuendo, smear and slander are not. They debauch the language of politics; they defile the dialogue which is the means by which free society governs itself."

Train

Stevenson moved into New Haven by "whistle-stop" train from New York City, where he attended the World Series battle between the Dodgers and the Yankees. Before the game he spoke at a street rally in Brooklyn.

In this speech, Stevenson accused the Eisenhower administration of having the country constantly at the "brink" of war, of fumbling on the Suez crisis and "spending 40 billion dollars a year for war."

Stevenson, a graduate of Princeton University, but whose three sons are Harvard men, could not resist pointing out here that his vice-presidential running mate, Sen. Estes Kefauver, is a graduate of the Yale Law School.

Stevenson said the greatest single difficulty about running for the presidency "is how you can win without, in the process, proving yourself unworthy of winning."

The concept that "you can pay too great a price for victory—that the means you use may destroy the principles you think you cherish —is fundamental to the democratic responsibility," he said.

In a thinly veiled reference to Eisenhower, Stevenson asserted:

"Hans Christian Andersen has already written the story of this campaign. He called it 'The Emperor's New Clothes.' All that Estes Kefauver and I have been doing is to tell people what they already know; that the emperor really doesn't have any clothes on at all.

"I think one of the most interesting questions in the campaign will be whether the shock over this revelation will not drive our Republican friends into new excesses."

Eisenhower Defends H-Tests

WASHINGTON, Oct. 5 (AP)—President Eisenhower said tonight the testing of atomic weapons "has been—and continues—an indispensable part of our defense program."

He expressed regret that H-bomb testing has been made a campaign issue and added in a special statement issued at the White House:

"The manner in which the issue has been raised can lead only to confusion at home and misunderstanding abroad."

This was obviously aimed at Adlai E. Stevenson, the Democratic presidential nominee, who has proposed several times in recent months that steps be taken to halt or limit the testing of huge nuclear weapons.

No Name

Eisenhower did not mention Stevenson by name, referring only to "certain proposals," which were those of his Democratic opponent.

The President said the American government "has consistently affirmed and reaffirmed its readiness—indeed, its strong will—to restrict and control both the testing and the use of nuclear weapons under specific and supervised international disarmament agreement."

But he said he would insist on a foolproof agreement "for however long I am charged with chief responsibility for the security of our nation."

In another slap at Stevenson, Eisenhower said the H-bomb issue was not raised by the Democratic party but by "one individual."

Fire On Nixon

DETROIT, Oct. 5 (AP)—Harry S. Truman tonight turned his Democratic campaign fire on vice President Nixon, describing him as "one of the worst enemies of labor that ever sat in Congress."

Council Asked To Endorse London Plan

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y., Oct. 5 (AP)—Britain and France, with U. S. backing, today asked the U.N. Security Council to endorse their London plan for international control as the best way to end the Suez Canal crisis.

The Western action came at the first Security Council session ever attended by the foreign ministers of the Big Four powers. Egypt, which already has rejected the London plan, also was represented by its foreign minister, Mahmoud Fawzi.

Sitting at the table, ready to back Egypt with a veto on the British-French resolution if necessary, was Soviet Foreign Minister Dmitri T. Shepilov. It was Shepilov's first U.N. meeting and he listened carefully to the debate. He is expected to speak next week after Egypt makes its opening statement. The council will resume its discussions Monday.

U. S. Secretary of State Dulles, who was said to have persuaded Britain and France to tone down the resolution slightly at a conference earlier today, told the council he would vote for it. He reiterated U.S. adherence to the decisions of the London conference in mid-August.

Threat

British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd led off today with a speech saying Egypt's seizure of the canal threatens the life and strength of countless nations. He presented a joint British-French resolution asking council support for the London proposals for international operation of the 103-mile waterway. It seeks to have Egypt cooperate by negotiating a settlement on the basis of the London plan and cooperate, meanwhile, with the new Suez Canal Users Assn.

The proposed resolution notes with regret that Egypt so far has refused to negotiate on the basis of the London proposals. It reaffirms the principle of the freedom of navigation in accordance with the Suez Canal Convention of 1888.

Lloyd contended himself to a somewhat legalistic argument against the seizure of the canal by President Nasser, and said it was a grave act which the nations could not ignore.

French Foreign Minister Christian Pineau had some harsh words to say about Nasser. He asked whether the seizure is the first stage of a policy which "may drive the world into fearful disasters."

That which He creates is good, and He makes all that is made. Therefore the only reality of sin, sickness, or death is the awful fact that unrealities seem real to human, erring belief, until God strips off their disguise. They are not true, because they are not of God."

Golden Text

The Golden Text is from Psalms (67:1,2): "God be merciful unto us, and bless us; and cause his face to shine upon us; that thy way may be known upon earth, thy saving health among all nations."

This Series of Messages In Support of The Church is Being Published Each Week in The Daily Record Sponsored by the Following Sincere Individuals and Business Establishments

Somebody's Neighbor

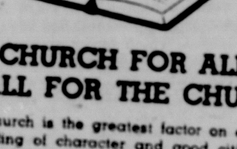

He probably doesn't look much like the man next door. He does his arithmetic with the aid of a centuries-old gadget called the abacus, and he writes the results in characters that would be quite undecipherable to you . . . yet you probably have far more in common with him than you'd ever dream.

Like you, he wants peace. Like you, he wants a good future for his children, and he wants them to have more than he has had. Like you, he has experienced happiness and sorrow, love and disillusionment. Like you, he prays.

On World Wide Communion Sunday, he will be going to Church and, though this may seem a bit odd to you, he will be praying for you. Yes . . . for you, and for everyone else in the world, friend or enemy.

Why not join him? Why not, on World Wide Communion Sunday, go to your own church and include him . . . him and everyone else . . . in your prayers.

Pray for peace, too. Remember, the power of prayer is a wonderful thing . . . especially when it is given many voices.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

New Appointee To Supreme Court Experienced, Well Fitted For Job

A good deal is being made of the politics of the man appointed to the Supreme Court by President Eisenhower. William J. Brennan, associate justice of the New Jersey Supreme Court, is a Democrat. And of his religion. He's a Roman Catholic.

None of which, it seems to us, is very important. The question is whether, by temperament, learning and conscience, he is fit to sit on the Supreme Court. The evidence indicates that he is.

We particularly like the testimony of a fellow jurist who says Justice Brennan dislikes labels, and shuns them. On the Supreme Court a man should have only one label—Mr. Justice.

In making the appointment President Eisenhower disregarded a familiar practice of holding up his choice until after the election. The vacancy was imminent — the President filled it promptly and in good judgment.

Justice Brennan thus joins the so-called nine "old men," a designation not very appropriate since he's but a scant 50. Which is another reason to applaud the appointment. He has not only the experience but, in the prime of life, should have the vigor for his new duties.

In two out of three instances now, President Eisenhower has gone to the lower judiciary for his Supreme Court appointments. He is thus helping to establish a sound tradition.

Political Candidates Would Do Well To Spend More Time On Real Issues

Both the Republican and Democratic parties have shifted into higher gear in their Presidential campaigns and are now dealing in the "futures" market.

The Republicans call this "extending the Eisenhower prosperity" and Vice President Nixon has spoken glowingly of such things as the four-day work week that lie ahead of us.

The Democrats, under Adlai Stevenson's leadership, speak just as glowingly of the "new America" and promise the sky to our aged citizens and to those of us who someday will be numbered among them.

At that it's a refreshing change from the dabbling in the past that marked the early days of the campaign. Then the shouts were of "Hiss" and "Hoover Depression."

Of course, what happened in the past must be given some consideration in evaluating a political party. Their plans for the future are of great concern too.

But the American voter cannot afford to go to the polls on Nov. 6 shuddering at what has been and reaching rosily for what might be.

Between now and Election Day, the political candidates might better spend their time concentrating a bit more on the immediate present, that middle ground between past and future, in which we all must live. Those are the problems that will first face our next President. Those are the issues on which the election hinge.

We can contemplate the lessons of the past and conjecture about the future, but we must never forget the importance of the political present.

George Sokolsky Says...

Tito Can Thank Western Aid For Elevating Him To High Position In World Communism

Uniformity, as well as autocracy, has been a principle of Russian history from the earliest period of the Duchy of Moscovy until the dictatorship of Joseph Stalin. Khrushchev's attempt to introduce even a modicum of free criticism and independent opinion has met with considerable resistance and has already produced a crisis in Communist affairs. To meet this crisis, Khrushchev has appealed to Tito for support and the question of the day is just how much support Tito can produce without Tito, himself, becoming the head of the Soviet Universal State. The influence of Tito may become very great indeed, because in the history of the post-Leninist period of world Communism, Tito has shown a greater capacity for leadership than any of the Russians except Stalin.

Russification has always meant conformity and if in Czarist Russia, Jews and Christians other than the Orthodox were unwelcomed, it was not because of hatred for their religion, but out of dislike for non-conformity. Yet what Khrushchev has accomplished, in his down-grading of Stalin, has been to stimulate a non-conformist attitude in Communist parties throughout the world. The reason that Tito and Stalin quarrelled in 1948 was that Tito insisted that one could be a Communist without accepting the patterns of Stalin.

Thomasz Potocki, a Pole, writing in the 1850's, as quoted by Jan Kucharzewski, in his book, "The Origins of Modern Russia," said:

"... With an inner barbarism and superficial polish, there prevails in Russia 'despotism of form, the erroneous notion that uniformity and order are synonymous, a notion contrary to nature, to organization created by God Himself wherein supreme order depends upon the greatest variety, and wherein only death is uniform.'

"Potocki makes the profound observation that such a deeply rooted 'worship of uniformity' is more durable than any social or political order ..."

He also quotes another Polish writer, P. L. Kraszewski, writing in 1869, who said:

"It lies in the nature of men who have lived for nine centuries under an oppressing despotism, that, as soon as it ceases, they should dream of another one, in a different form, yet not less efficacious. An autocracy by the grace of God is followed by a despotism of the blind masses ... in the name of freedom."

How true all this is today! The Bolshevik Revolution did not make for greater freedom; it clothed autocracy and the insistence upon uniformity in modern terms. It rejected democracy in favor of the dictatorship of the Party as the Czars rejected democracy in favor of autocracy. And what it came to during Stalin's regime was the autocracy of Stalin who exercised greater power over the lives of the people than the Czar ever did, undoubtedly because he was more efficient and more ruthless than the Czar.

Khrushchev tried something a little different. His first startling move was to go to Yugoslavia with Bulganin to apologize to Tito for Stalin's expulsion of Tito from the Cominform, on account of Tito's non-conformity. Meanwhile Tito had amassed nearly a billion dollars of American aid and was asking for more; he had established himself as an important international figure with British and American assistance; he had organized the Balkan Alliance which fell apart through no fault of his; he had visited Great Britain as an official state guest. Tito asserted himself mightily not only for these reasons but because he knew that in the Communist world he had only one competitor, the Red Chinese, Mao Tze-tung.

So now Tito has gone to Soviet Russia to assert the philosophy of Nationalistic Communism, a doctrine which Georgi Dimitrov of Bulgaria and Ana Pauker of Rumania favored and one died and the other sank into oblivion. If Tito prevails, he can become the successor of Stalin in a newly-formed Comintern. As it stands today, there is no open international Communist organization. Stalin abolished the Third International and established the Cominform which never amounted to much because Stalin could not recognize the equality of Communist parties in other countries than Russia.

Today, it is necessary to re-establish an international Communist organization because each party is going its own way and some, like the American party, are dying for want of direction. Khrushchev obviously has not the stature to lead a world movement which must include Tito and Mao Tze-tung. Tito has such stature, thanks to British and American aid.

Stroudsburg, Pa.
Sept. 28, 1956

Editor, The Daily Record
Stroudsburg, Pa.
Dear Sir:

On the night of Sept. 25, I found conditions in Stroudsburg which amazed me. It seems to me that crime and juvenile delinquency are winning out in this fair borough.

I have been a citizen here for more than 50 years and am a graduate of our high school. I have seen the borough grow from a small town, its streets lighted at night by kerosene lamps on posts on street corners, by a lamp-lighter, to its present proportions and am naturally interested in its moral stamina.

This is what happened: On the night of the 25th, some young hoodlums were running wild in our neighborhood, which is a good section of the borough, composed almost entirely of private homes. I stepped to the telephone to notify the police. I waited four or five minutes before the telephone operator responded, although I am on a two-party line and the line was not busy.

Next, it took 15 or 20 minutes to call the police and find him. Then to my astonishment, I found that there was only one policeman on duty at night for this entire borough. A murder could be committed while we were waiting for protection by the law. Of course, under such conditions, those who have helpers to watch the police have everything in their favor and are sure that they will not be caught.

So, I went after them myself and found that after breaking the laws of the commonwealth by trespassing on private property, supposed to be protected by no-trespassing signs, and also running through a private driveway, also protected by signs, they treated me as one whom they had the right to torment at will and also acted as though they had the right to do just as they please on private property without any consideration for law and order.

Then they told me that they were just having fun and what they were doing, they were doing to torment another lady living on an adjoining property and that they liked me.

These were boys of high school age. When our homes, churches and high schools are producing young men of this caliber, there is something wrong with their training. They, after all the time, attention and expense that is being lavished upon their education, should be gentlemen and upholders of our laws.

We, as citizens of this commonwealth, have a right to expect a better moral fiber developed in the gray matter of their brains than the vacuum which seems to exist. Their idea seems to be anything with which they can get away. Might and cunning make right, they seem to feel.

We would call such a vacuum fertile soil for the doctrine of a Hitler or a Stalin.

One who is interested in our youth and standing for the best interests of this community.

TRUTH, CRUSHED TO EARTH, SHALL RISE AGAIN!

My New York

—by Mel Heimer

New York—So here was this big, nice-looking dame poking her head through the open doorway and then throwing a perfect forward pass with—what else?—a football. "It's seamless! It's rubber! It's official!" she cried enthusiastically, so I caught it like Don Hutson and told her to come in and sit down.

Jim Thorpe

The big, nice-looking dame turned out to be, of all people, Grace Thorpe—nobody else than the daughter of Jim Thorpe, the Indian who was the male Babe Didrikson of his day. She was on the tail end of a six-week tour of America, during which she visited 17 major cities and tried to convince university athletic heads, coaches, sporting-goods stores, radio-TV commentators and ulcerous newsmen like myself that they should never use anything but a football put out by the company she represents.

It's probable that no one with whom she talked didn't steer the conversation around ultimately to her old man, the great Sac and Fox Indian of yesteryear who died more than three years ago.

Grace wanted to set one thing straight: Jim didn't leave the baseball big leagues because he couldn't hit the curve ball, the way some say. "He just got into an argument with John J. McGraw, the Giants' manager," she said. "Listen my pop could hit the curve ball. After all, he made a living for 15 years out of pro and semi-pro baseball".

Like most children of famous sires, Grace (she's divorced, but uses her married name Grace Seely), has had the shadow of big Jim with her all her life. "I've managed to live as an individual though," she said, "although maybe my four younger brothers were more affected by his fame. They all were good athletes, but weren't sufficiently interested to go into sports for a career, like pop. And it'd be pretty hard to live up to his accomplishments, anyway, wouldn't it?"

She lives now just up the Hudson river from New York, in Pearl River, N. Y., where she's got a small house and is raising her children, Thorpe Seely, 8, and Dagmar, 9. Her boy, she said proudly, is the biggest and strongest of his age in the neighborhood, plays Little League ball and "whistles the loudest, too." She recalled her father as being simple, humorous, patient with his children and a great outdoors man.

"We grew up in Chicago," she said, "and while we had some rough times financially, because athletics wasn't as lucrative a career then as it is today, we had no kick. I never saw my father at his peak, but I do remember that when I was a little girl, he gave a kicking exhibition at Haskell Institute—dropkicking goals from the 50-yard line."

It was the idea of publicist Ted Worner, who met Grace at Fort Oglethorpe, Ga., when she was a WAC in 1943 and he was an Army officer, that she go around the country publicizing the new football, which has been accepted by the colleges as official.

Most of the time, Grace works at selling ads in the yellow pages of the telephone book. She's had a varied career: after the WAC, she was with Gen. Douglas MacArthur's headquarters in Japan, doing personnel work for four and a half years, and later she supervised the doings of the Welcome Wagon in Rockland county, New York.

If you drop by the Seely home, you're apt any time to see a big, graceful girl—looking very much around the eyes like the old Sac and Fox himself—out in the front yard, playing catch with little Thorpe Seely, who whistles so loud, or throwing a perfect spiral pass. "I was swimming when I was four," she said, "and I bowl once in a while these days, trying to keep in shape, but otherwise my big sport is raising two children.

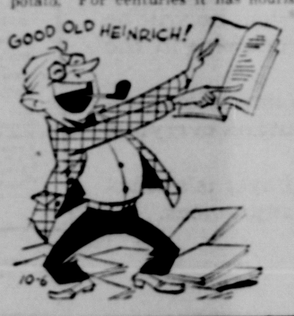

"I want to do two things before I die—learn to play the piano and fly an airplane." As she left, I pegged a long floater, 10 yards or so, that she caught by the elevator bank and carried into the cage for a touchdown. If I had had a receiver like that in my college days, I tell you, the world these days wouldn't even remember who Jim Thorpe was.

"Don't praise a dramatic actor because he brings tears to your eyes. An onion will do the same."

"You have made a very good impression on me," a bank president in a small town told an applicant, "and I hereby appoint you the loan arranger." The applicant whooped, "Hi-ho, Silver!"

Inside Washington

Hard-Pressed Candidates Looking To Ike For Aid

Washington — Political insiders report that President Eisenhower scheduled his Oct. 1 campaign speech in Cleveland after receiving an urgent plea from Senator George Bender who is facing an uphill re-election battle against Democratic Gov. Frank Lausche.

They say that Bender was convinced his chances were slipping and he appealed to the White House political command to have Ike personally visit Ohio in an effort to halt the trend with the Eisenhower prestige.

Some indication of the confidence of Lausche that he can unseat Bender is evidenced by reports that the Ohio governor is already making plans to move his family to Washington and has inquired about office space in the Senate Office building.

Bender's request for a presidential appearance probably won't be the last the President will receive from GOP congressional candidates in the field.

In Oregon, Mr. Eisenhower's ex-Interior secretary, Douglas McKay, is reported running a losing race against his Democratic foe, Senator Wayne Morse. Inasmuch as Morse is a prime target for the Republicans this year, there is a strong likelihood the President may soon announce an appearance in the western state before the balloting takes place.

On the griddle—Look for a full-scale, headline Senate investigation of labor racketeering in New York City which may give the play-by-play details of the blinding of Victor Riesel, labor columnist, by hired hoodlums.

The Senate permanent investigations subcommittee is taking a close look at the so-called "paper locals" which have allegedly been set up by gangsters.

Johnny Dioguardia, also known as Johnny Dio, held as one of the major suspects in the Riesel case, has been accused of establishing such "dummy" unions.

Much of the preliminary work of the Senate probers has focused on Dio's activities in the Teamsters union in the New York City area with his objective being to gain control of all trucking in the New York-New Jersey vicinity.

Once the explosive hearings get underway, there is a strong possibility that not only union but management figures as well will be involved.

McCarthy—changed? — While GOP spokesmen are publicly ignoring the possibility that Senator Joseph McCarthy of Wisconsin would resume chairmanship of the Senate investigations committee if Republicans win control of the upper house for the next session, they privately admit they are nervous about the outlook.

Although the senator has maintained a studied silence since his censure by the Senate and has announced he will vote the straight Republican ticket in November, some observers expect vigorous action—if he again takes over the investigating group. And, they fear, it may mean direct conflict with Mr. Eisenhower.

Fisherman's Prize—Most fisherman go after "big catches" but the Smithsonian Institution is gloating over acquisition of a fish only about three inches long.

Its prize is one of the "pine cone" fish—which looks like a swimming pine cone alive, and when dead and dried almost exactly like the "fruit" of the pine tree.

The fish are rare. The Smithsonian's speciman was caught near the Robinson Crusoe Island—Juan Fernandez—off the coast of Chile. It has been identified as one of a hitherto unknown species—the first to be caught outside the tropical Pacific waters. Smithsonian is bragging like the man who caught a 20-inch trout.

Fitness—a medical paper by a New York physician has got the United States government up in arms about the relative physical fitness of American kids as compared with European boys and girls. Dr. Hans Kraus presented results of a series of physical tests given to American and European children at the American Medical association meeting last year. The furor over the results led to a special White House conference called by President Eisenhower to focus attention to the importance of keeping American youth physically fit.

What is not very widely known is that the results of Dr. Klaus' tests showed that schoolbus-riding, TV-watching U. S. youth scored lower physically than their hiking European brothers.

Let's think hard about preventing fires and let the knowledge sink in to such a depth that it will remain on our minds during many future weeks, months and years.

The Hearing Aid—A Short Story

"You understand, of course, that I don't really need one," said the customer who had asked for a call from the hearing-aid salesman.

"That's what they all say," the salesman replied.

"Ray Halsay? Who's he?" the man asked.

"Let's run over the facts in your case. With your hearing do you have daily trouble?" the hearing-aid man inquired.

"I haven't played the daily double in years," the man said. "Let's get down to the matter of my hearing. And remember it isn't bad."

"When did you first notice you had some hearing difficulty? Is it of long standing?" the salesman asked.

"Well, never mind standing. Sit down," the man said. "In this matter of a hearing-aid it's important for you to know that I hear pretty well except when people speak in soft tones, like you."

"I've really been shouting," the salesman said.

"Shooting? I didn't know the hunting season was open," the man said.

"Let me get the full story," the salesman began. "Did you ever have any trouble with your Eustachian tube?"

"With Eustice who?"

"How about your tympanum?" the salesman yelled.

"Tim Brannan? I ain't seen him in years," the man replied.

"This instrument is very new," the salesman wearily continued.

"Yes, but I don't want two. I doubt I need one. Like I said my hearing loss is very slight."

"I say this is the latest model. Exceptional features: No cord! No chain! No pocket battery," the salesman argued. "No straining for a voice pitch."

"Cut out this baseball talk and let's hear something about the hearing aid," the man urged.

"You're not getting my words and I'm talking quite loudly," the salesman said. "Now just put one of these aids on your ear."

"Raids? What year?" the man asked. "What's that gadget you're showing me? Stop whispering!"

"You'll need the larger model," the salesman said.

"Who?" the man replied.

"I give up," the salesman said in a tone of complete surrender, as he gathered up his things and left.

"Just as I thought," the man said. "That fellow and I could never get together. HE DON'T HEAR WELL."

Yetter Compares Current Bridge Projects To Those Of Former Years During Campaign Talk

REP. VAN D. YETTER charged last night that it would have taken a Republican administration 40 years or more to reconstruct bridges after Monroe County's disastrous 1955 flood based on past GOP performance in this county.

Yetter said that it had taken the GOP administration in 1953 "13 months and a day" to rebuild one small bridge between Snydersville and Kellersville.

In an address at Middle Smithfield, Yetter said:

"Talk about rebuilding: As you know, I have been after the Highway Department continually to speed up the construction of the bridges that were washed out last year.

"I guess we should not feel too bad, when you consider that we have over 40 State bridges to engineer and get under contract.

"I remember back in the GOP days when a bridge was broken down on Route 949 between Snydersville and Kellersville on June 20, 1953.

"Even though they (the Republican administration) had only one bridge to construct, this bridge was not completed until July 21, 1954, or 13 months and a day to build this one bridge.

"At that rate the GOP would be over 40 years getting all these bridges built and there was no temporary bridge for those people to use. They had to drive miles around. But the GOP shed no tear, at that time. I had not intended to bring up this subject, but the opposition insists on airing it, so lets bring out the record."

The Democratic Assemblyman's reference to "the opposition" was aimed at his GOP opponent H. L. Cleveland who injected the bridge-highway and post-flood recovery issue into the campaign at a GOP rally last week. Cleveland criticized the fact that temporary bridges are still being used.

Yetter also told his audience last night that "the Republican High Command, even at the State level, are after my scalp."

"It appears they are angry because I helped bring about an investigation of the Delaware River Joint Toll Bridge Commission," he went on. "The men that were exposed by this investigation, and who have been indicted by the Bucks County Court, were leading Republicans. These men had been living high, wide and handsome at our expense and at the expense of the people using the bridges."

"It is going to be the responsibility of our committee to introduce and push for its enactment, legislation that will put a stop to such lavish waste of the people's money," he said. "The executive committee of the commission even used funds out of the toll bridge commission treasury to maintain a suite of rooms. Lavish entertainment and lobbying purposes were employed to keep the legislature from enacting laws that would put some control and regulations on their operations. I expect to push for such legislation at the next session of the legislature."

Yetter continued:

"I understand the new Democratic-controlled Commission has been able to cut the budget for the coming year by $350,000 and expects to pay off the bridges and make them free of tolls in about 10 years."

The Assemblyman also cited his record in support of a dam across the Delaware River and reaffirmed his position, saying: "I am for a dam across the Delaware that will help control floods along the river, maintain a greater flow in dry weather and afford a great recreational area for our people to go boating and fishing. We have come a long way toward making that dam a reality. I introduced and pushed for enactment of legislation to wipe out an old treaty that would prevent a dam across the river. We passed legislation making $500,000 available for the State to buy distressed property so that it will not be built up and cost the State a larger amount at a later date. It will also help out the people that were flooded out and don't want to rebuild."

Gallery Art Club Elects Officers For 1956-57 Season

OFFICERS FOR THE 1956-57 season have been elected by Gallery Art Club.

Renamed president by members at a meeting this week was Jesse Weiss. Mrs. Carla Holmgren was elected secretary and Mrs. Judith Brown, treasurer.

The group voted to change its by-laws so that there is only one kind of membership. Previously there had been "full" or privileged members and associate members. Now all persons obtaining membership will be entitled to the same services, lectures and study groups.

MORA Club Pays Visit To Library

MORA Club met on Wednesday at the Monroe County YMCA, but terminated its business meeting early so members could go in a group to the Monroe County Historical Museum at the Stroud Mansion, Main and 9th Sts.

They were welcomed by Mrs. Horace G. Walters, Curator of the Historical Society, who directed them through the mansion and gave a very dramatic explanation of the scores of exhibits.

Impression

The members were impressed with the fine example of early Colonial architecture of the house which was built in 1795 by Col. Jacob Stroud. They enjoyed the museum collection of examples of local handicrafts, which included wood carvings, weaving, basketry, blown glass, needlework, pottery and metal work; and also the collection of Indian relics, early farm implements and household utensils.

In the basement they saw the large open fireplace and oven where the cooking was done for the Stroud family. Here too they saw the hand hewn beams which support the building, and the collection of War implements dated from the Indian period through World War I.

Mrs. Jerry Stulgaitus presided in the absence of Mrs. Robert Keith, president. Mrs. Clifford Kintner, equipment chairman, announced the decision of the Camp Committee to encourage the use of Camp Stamps by Girl Scouts who plan to go to the local Day Camp. A separate Intermediate Scout Day Camp Program is being planned — when only Intermediate and Senior Scouts will be at Camp with the Councillors. Brownies will have camp at a different time.

October 18 is the date for the Council Meeting, when all Girl Scout Adults are being urged to attend. This meeting will be held at the Methodist Social Rooms, and will begin at 7:30 with dessert. Mrs. LeRoy Koehler, Council President, will preside at the meeting and the Senior Girl Scouts will share their summer experiences.

Mrs. Alfred Munson arranged the Buzz Sessions with Mrs. Frederick Dent and Mrs. Hugh Altemose leading the Brownie and Intermediate groups in program plans.

Mrs. Harold James distributed the 1957 Girl Scout Calendars in which five monthly pictures are those of local scouts depicting Scout activities. The Calendar Sale is officially on — now and the supply is limited. Mrs. James is responsible to the National Girl Scout Organization for the arrangement and correctness of the calendar. Her local models enjoy their part in this National project in Girl Scouting.

Leaders are considering the purchase of a projector and Mrs. Paul Flory and her committee demonstrated two machines being considered. This machine will be for the use of leaders in training, and for the girls in Girl Scout programs.

Mrs. George Wakefield, Mrs. Helene Walters, Mrs. Mary Gearhart, and other leaders of Troops 1 to 5, observed the birthday of Mrs. Helen Dippre, who also was on the refreshment committee. Leaders took home with them, the October issue of the Newsbag — a monthly magazine of important local Girl Scout ideas and news-edited by Mrs. William Wyckoff, with cover illustrations by Mary Beth Knepp, a Monroe County Senior Girl Scout.

Margaret Gearhart Wed In Colorful Autumn Ceremony

In a bridal setting of green and gold, Miss Margaret Jean Gearhart, daughter of Mrs. F. Layton Gearhart, of 1712 Pokona Ave., Stroudsburg, and the late Mr. Gearhart, and Morris J. Dawson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Morris Dawson, of East Stroudsburg RD 1, were united in marriage by Rev. John Bollier. The ceremony was held on Saturday in the First Presbyterian Church in Stroudsburg.

The bride was escorted to the altar by her uncle, William J. Dodson, of Stroudsburg. She wore a gown of Chantilly lace and nylon tulle. The lace princess bodice was complimented with a scoop neckline and long lace sleeves tapering to a point at the hand. The bouffant skirt of nylon had a deep insert of lace with a chapel train. Her double-tiered veil of silk illusion with lace inserts, fell from a fitted cloche of sequins. She carried her father's Bible on which were two orchids with stephanotis.

Miss Janet Stewart, East Stroudsburg, was maid-of-honor. Her gown was of mint green crystallette, designed with a basque bodice, Sabrina neckline and cap sleeves, and a full skirt with folds at the hipline worn over a hoop. Her headpiece was of green nylon and velvet with a profile veil studded with rhinestones. She carried a cascade bouquet of rust mums and lemon leaves.

The bridesmaids were Patricia Dodson, Stroudsburg, and Mary Jane Elsner, Newark, N. J., cousins of the bride, and Christine Boop, Mifflinburg and Lois Gobrecht, Dayton, Ohio, both college classmates of the bride. They wore gowns of gold crystallette with pleated tucks in the basque bodices and hooped skirts, with matching headpieces of nylon and velvet. Their cascade bouquets were of lemon leaves and rust gold mums.

Bonnie Gearhart, of Rockville, Md., a cousin of the bride, was junior bridesmaid with gown and headpiece of mint green styled like the bridesmaids. Sharon MacDonald, of Rockville, was flower girl. She wore a long mint green gown and carried a golden basket of mums.

Jeffrey Gearhart, of Shickshinny, cousin of the bride, carried the rings on a silver tray.

Richard R. Van Why was the best man. Ushers were: Herschel Gearhart, Muhlenberg, cousin of the bride; David Terrill and Philip Stewart, East Stroudsburg; William Serfass and Leland Waltz, of Stroudsburg.

Prior to the ceremony, Miss Nancy Pearce, of Scranton, a college classmate of the bride, sang "Because" and "I Love You Truly." During the wedding prayer she sang "The Lord's Prayer" as they kneeled. Vernon Imbt, church organist, played the accompaniment, the wedding marches and "O Perfect Love" as background music.

The church was decorated with bouquets of white gladioli and mums and rhododendron, and a white satin pillow covered the kneeling bench.

The bride's mother wore a gold taffeta dress trimmed with gold velvet with gold velvet panels in back. She wore matching accessories and a corsage of green orchids. The bridegroom's mother chose green velvet styled on princess lines. With it she wore beige accessories and a corsage of golden orchids. The bride's grandmother wore navy blue with matching accessories, and a corsage of pink rosebuds.

For her going-away outfit the bride wore a two-piece suit of gray flannel lined with gold, a white feather hat and black accessories.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at McNamara's Gap View Inn for relatives and friends, before the young couple left for Pittsburgh where they have a furnished apartment. The bride is a graduate of Bloomsburg State Teachers College and is employed as a special education teacher in Pittsburgh. Just Between Us

—by Bobby Westbrook

There are many things on which opinions differ these days: the Yanks and the Dodgers, the Democrat and the Republican campaigns, and the new skirt lengths—but on one subject yesterday there was complete unanimity of opinion:

The weather was wonderful and the foliage has never been more beautiful. You couldn't find a soul to disagree with you, once they'd emerged from their television lairs and smelled the air sweet as apples, scuffed through leaves bright as a Persian rug, and felt the benediction of the sun.

It was a day to frame and hang up for a calendar. Speaking of calendars, I've been studying the new National Girl Scout calendar and recognizing with delight some of my favorite local girls.

Though you needn't wait to get your 1957 calendar to do that. There's a charming group of local Brownies and Girl Scouts on this October's calendar. And your first thought is how they've grown since the picture was taken. And if you peek ahead to December you'll find local pin-up boys, too.

It's probably safe to say that the faces of local Scouts are more widely seen than any other Scouts in the world, thanks to Sonia James, whose responsibility the National Calendars are. When she moved here she came up with the idea of using real scouts in real situations instead of professional models, and found in our girls and their activities perfect subjects.

In fact, I think we're pretty perfect in a lot of departments.

Mrs. Barbara Hinton and Mrs. Alberta Yutz will be heard in solo numbers; Mrs. Ella Powell and Miss Helen Smith in a duet and Mrs. William Metzgar in a piano solo.

A report will be given on the Regional Conference of Music Clubs held last week at Zion Ev. and Reformed Church. Refreshments will be served at the close of the meeting. New members will be welcomed by all the members.

THE Wyckoff SHOPPER

The mail comes in . . . with letters from town and letters from away. And we are grateful.

One, postmarked September 24, is from D.P.C. who refers to a column in which we talked about our Sears television department. "Your comments of yesterday on SEARS' TV struck a responsive chord here," it reads. "We are the happy users of a SEARS TV and find it is just fine in every way and has given us many hours of enjoyment with no trouble. Also, your information about the "Evening In Paris" special was taken up at once—as you indicated, a good buy and very nice. Best wishes—"

Another, from Burlington Hosiery Company's advertising and sales promotion director, expresses gratitude for the well-rounded cooperation given during the recent "Wonderful Day" promotion in our Wyckoff hosiery department. At the request of Ben Herzfeld, sales representative in this area, I had forwarded to Mr. Mitchell a dictaphone belt taken from our Wyckoff Shopper radio interview, which coordinated with both our regular advertising and a Wyckoff Shopper column devoted to the history of Burlington Industries. "Thank you very much for the copy of the ad, the column, and the dictaphone belt," Mr. Mitchell writes, in part. "You may be interested to know that I am going to present your promotion to the Burlington Industries advertising group, whose products and background you covered so fairly in 'The Wyckoff Shopper'."

Then, from Mrs. Edward Knob of the Stroudsburg Woman's Club comes a letter of thanks for a review of the book, "Topsoil and Civilization" presented before the conservation study group at the recent local meeting of the Northeastern Federation of Women's Clubs. I am particularly grateful for Mrs. Knob's remarks that "so many of the women have told me about your wonderful radio report of the meeting. In fact, one woman said your report should be copied and sent to every woman attending."

It's always gratifying to know when a program on something so worthwhile has pleased the listener . . . And finally, we have received a gracious and charming letter from Ellen W. Krauss, chaperone to Miss Pennsylvania on her recent visit to the Stroudsburgs.

"Dear Mrs. Maloney," she writes, "Both Lorna Ringler and I want you to know how much we enjoyed being with you, and visiting the Wyckoff store when we were in Stroudsburg last month. I liked hearing your broadcast from your store, and it was very thoughtful of you to let us hear the playback of it. Your store is such a friendly place. Seriously, I think it must be a pleasure to be part of that organization, because it seems so like a happy family. Mr. Wyckoff has a grand personality, hasn't he? (Everyone else does too, but he seems so natural, and friendly).

"The little woolen cape I chose from your store I like very much. I like it because it is different.

"Sometime when I come to Stroudsburg, I'll stop in your store to see you—and if you should get to West Chester I'd be pleased for you to get in touch with me. Most sincerely, Ellen W. Krauss."

It's letters like this that make one feel like a million, with a life worth living. Our aim here at Wyckoff's is to please . . . and when we've succeeded, how could we ask for anything more?

Eastburg Rallies To Top Lehighton

Don Miller, Wolslayer Lead Cavaliers To 12-7 Triumph

DON MILLER, an unheralded, back and center Dick Wolslayer led East Stroudsburg High to its third victory of the season last night as the Cavaliers rallied in the fourth quarter to trip Lehighton High, 12-7.

Miller, an expert at hiding the ball, personally powered the Cavaliers of Jack Kist to a comeback win as he paced a last quarter assault for the winning TD. Wolslayer, a pivotman who also is plenty fast, gobbled in a punt and raced 88 yards for a touchdown to give the locals a short-lived edge in the first period.

While Wolslayer's picturesque jaunt also was a gamesaver for the Cavaliers, it was the one-man show put on by Miller in the fourth that caught the some 1500 fans' fancy at Memorial Stadium.

Don, running from the fullback slot on straight blasts except one—carried seven times, racking up 48 yards of the 57 made during the 10-play triumphant march.

The Cavalier stormed and bulled his way off the guards of the visitors continually until he went over with 6:41 left in the period.

Fine Run

While it was Miller's night in the fourth canto it was just as much Wolslayer's evening in the first when he usel a near-perfect screen of Cavalier blockers to go all the way.

Miller's TD overcame a 7-6 Lehighton lead that looked as if it would stand up the rest of the way.

The Cavaliers dominated the play, for the most part, in the second half. But when they moved deep into Lehighton territory the once-moving Kist offense petered out.

East Stroudsburg had a hard time of it all night. Especially, when Lehighton's Jacoby began finding holes off his own left side; and quarterback Billy Hoffard was finding Glen DePue in the open with unerring passes.

Tough In Clutch

However, the Kist defense, usually a 5-3-3, except when Jacoby and Roger Wolfe kept hitting the line consistently, kept the visitors away from touchdown door but once.

Lineman Ed Yakencheck, who also had a turn at the fullback post, was the big man in Cavalier defense.

Time and again aggressive Ed broke through to stop or at least break up an Indian bid for a first down. Jim Brimer, who has been making a habit of recovering fumbles, latched on to his fifth in four games, to take the play away from Lehighton early in the contest.

East Stroudsburg, losers only once this year, had a big scare in the fourth period when Jacoby, Wolfe and Bernie Semmel and Co. moved to four straight first downs to the Eastburg 16 before Yakencheck and his mates turned back the bid with only seconds remaining.

The drive started, following Bob Stine's kickoff, and covered 47 yards all told before the Kistman's defense stiffened for good.

Drive In Third

East Stroudsburg got a drive going of its own in the third period that looked like it would go all the way. With Don Miller lugging three straight times for two firsts, the Cavaliers moved from their own 46 to the 23. Corky Smith, another hipper-dipper Kist back, slanted off tackle for another first on the 13.

After Smith hit to the 10, the attack went backwards as Jacoby, a linebacker on defense, came surging through to drop the Cavaliers for three straight losses. At this point Lehighton took over on downs on the 26.

Just Series

For the most part the first period turned out to be a series of two downs and kick for East Stroudsburg and three downs and punt for Lehighton.

However, in the opening minutes the Cavaliers got a big break when Jim Brimer recovered an Indian fumble on Lehighton's 47. But the Cavaliers couldn't capitalize this time and the Indians took over when a Don Miller hurried punt was snatched in mid-air by guard Bill Bottcher and the Indians were in motion on their own 39.

Lehighton, at this point, started to get over-anxious and three offside penalties which were all declined by Eastburg forced the visitors to punt out of trouble or apparent trouble.

But here Wolslayer pulled in the ball, lost it momentarily and picked up the pigskin on his own 12 and swung out to his left. There the Cavalier pivotman found eight well-screened blockers and followed the horde of protection to the Lehighton 20 where Simmel made a last ditch attempt to bring down the Eastburger. But Dick swung him off and went the rest of the way unmolested.

This come at 4:06 of the period and the 6-0 Eastburg lead looked big despite Stine's misfired conversion try.

Both sides traded four down series before the Indians got the chance to get an attack going right after the second quarter got under way.

After a Don Miller punt was taken by Wolfe who was dropped immediately in his tracks by Wolslayer, Lehighton finally got moving. But it took a shakeoff of a 10-yard loss play by Jerry Simon that got the Indians in gear.

Third, Seven

With a third down and seven-to-go situation on the 46 Simon was trapped 10 yards behind his own line of scrimmage but shook loose three Cavaliers and went to the Eastburg 46 for a first down.

Here a long aerial from Jim Hoffard to Gil DePue shot the Indians to the 18 for another first. With Jacoby and Simon and Hoffard taking turns, Jacoby for the most part—Lehighton drove to the one. Two plays later Jacoby scored off right guard with 4:43 left to the half.

Ron Getter then calmly kicked the extra point that gave the visitors the 7-6 lead.

Moments later with time running out Lehighton got another opportunity when a Miller boot was partially blocked and recovered on the Eastburg 39. But the threat died on the 30 when Hoffard fumbled and Eastburg took took over to run out the clock.

Never Had It, Collins Says Of Big Miscue

By WILL GRIMSLEY

BROOKLYN, Oct. 5 (AP)—"I went to grab the ball and it wasn't there. I never had it. I don't know what happened."

That was the way leathery Joe Collins, the New York Yankees' flashy first baseman, described the harrowing, second-inning error which opened the door for six unearned runs and probably paved the way for Brooklyn's 13-8 victory today in the second World Series game today.

Gil Hodges was on base with a single, the Dodgers behind 6-0, when Sandy Amoros hit a high-bound but routine grounder down the first base line.

Collins reached high to snare the ball, whipped around in a pivot to make the play at second base and the ball squirted out of his hand.

Easy Play

"It was an easy play—or so it seemed," the 33-year-old Union, N.J., veteran, playing in his sixth World Series said. "I could have made the throw easily to second for a double play.

"But the ball—I never touched it, although it hit in my glove. It must have come out when I pivoted."

It was the first World Series error for the lean first baseman in 24 games. In previous World Series he had made 144 putouts and 11 assists without a miscue. It was because of his superb fielding ability that he had been substituted in the second game today for Bill Skowron.

The Yankees, including Collins, talked matter-of-factly and without histrionics today of their second straight defeat in the Brooklyn park.

Somebody suggested to Casey Stengel, the crease-faced Yankee manager, that it was a football score.

Need TD

"We needed another touchdown," the skipper said wryly, showing he hadn't lose his sense of humor in these bad times for the Yankees.

Stengel announced that Whitey Ford, who started Wednesday's losing game, would be the starter tomorrow when the scene shifts to Yankee Stadium.

"He's all right," Casey said. "He only pitched three innings in the first game and he's strong enough to go. I'm not worried.

Anthony Rallies To Gain Verdict

WASHINGTON, Oct. 5 (AP)—Tony Anthony overcame a faltering start to score a split decision over Clarence Hinnant in a nationally televised light heavyweight 10-round bout tonight. Anthony weighed 171½; Hinnant 170.

Anthony took a knockdown in the second and was staggered repeatedly in the third but came back strong to outpoint his hard-punching rival.

The bell intervened on the second round knockdown as Anthony held himself erect by the ropes.

Nimble Colby Retires Winner

LEXINGTON, Ky., Oct. 5 (AP)—Nimble Colby, in her last race before retirement, came on to capture the $53,731 Kentucky Futurity today after Barlow Hanover took the first heat in a surprising photo-finish.

2 Midget Tilts On Tap Today

TWO GAMES are scheduled in the East Stroudsburg Midget Football League this morning. Notre Dame will meet Penn at 10 a.m., and Navy will play Duke at 11. The games are to be played on the junior high school grounds.

Stroudsburg High Grid Team Invades Weona Park Today To Face Pen Argyl Eleven

STROUDSBURG HIGH, stymied last week in its bid to get win No. 3, will go after it again today when the Mountaineers of John Whitehead travel to Pen Argyl for a tussle with the Green Wave. The contest, slated for Weona Park Memorial Field, will start at 2 p.m.

The Mountaineers, owners of a 2-1 record, will be meeting a team which hasn't tasted victory in over two years of scholastic grid competition.

The Green Wave which has been on the losing side in two games this year and set back in eight tilts in 1955 will be out to post its most coveted triumph since 1954.

Rudy Penza, head coach of the Pen Argylites, and his entire four-man coaching staff of John Laky, Blaine Strunk, Al Wolford and Harry Mervine scouted the Mountaineers when Whitehead's team went down to a 13-0 defeat at the hands of Palmerton a week ago yesterday.

Pen Argyl went through workouts this week, stressing the flaws that cropped up in the Mountaineers' armor.

Stroudsburg wound up drills last night, tapering off with a light signal maneuver following a strenuous week of sessions built around defensive and offensive setups.

Whitehead, whose line depth has been a problem all season, will probably go with the same team that opened up against the Mountaineers' last three foes.

At the ends will be Terry Bartleson and George Steinhauer. Plugging the tackle positions will be veterans Doug Shook and Jim Wallace. Don Stopp and Larry Besecker will be at the guard posts. Larry Buzzard, the Mountaineers chief defensive threat in the early outings, will be at his familiar center berth.

In the backfield will be Ron Stopp at quarterback; Ron Phillips and Dick Cramsey at the halves and Bill Bolich at full.

The tilt will be the first in the new mythical Pocono-State Belt Scholastic Football Four for Stroudsburg. Pen Argyl has already made one loop outing, bowing to East Stroudsburg in its opener.

Pace Golfers In Pocono Manor Play

POCONO MANOR — Fred L. Harris, of Phoenixville Country Club, led the field at the halfway mark in the annual Philadelphia Seniors Golf Association Tournament after 18 holes of play here yesterday. Harris, a Class B participant, went into the lead with a low net of 66, topping the best the Class A group could offer in Dr. Hugh Flanagan, of Overbrook, who posted a 68.

The tournament, for golfers over 50 years of age, will windup two days of action tomorrow with 18 holes.

Trailing Flanagan in the Class A group were Henry Shayberger, Schuylkill C. C., with a 69, and Arthur Schuller, Cedarbrook, with a 71. Three strokes off the pact of Harris in B play with 69s were Harold Crouthamel, Phoenixville, and R. C. Henley, Pocono Manor.

In Class A action, first day low gross honors went to Charles R. Todd, Aronimink, with a 79. He was followed by Snayberger with a 81 and J. Willard Roberts, Plymouth C. C., with an 82.

Low gross laurels in B competition was garnered in by R. C. Henley, Pocono Manor, with a 80. Four strokes off the lead with an 84 was R. L. Kilpatrick, Pocono Manor. M. S. Hankins unattached, held third place with a 89.

Juniata Loses Back For Year

HUNTINGDON, Pa., Oct. 5 (AP)—Juniata College today reported the loss of its veteran fullback, Bob Sill, of Fairless Hills, for the remainder of the 1956 football season.

Physicians at the college infirmary said Sill, a junior, is suffering infectious mononucleosis, a disease of the glands, and will be confined to bed for "four to six weeks."

Dodgers Made 9-5 Favorites

NEW YORK, Oct. 5 (AP)—The Brooklyn Dodgers, leading the New York Yankees two game to none, tonight were made 9-5 favorites to capture the World Series.

The Yankees, however, were the 6-5 favorites to win tomorrow's game at the Yankee Stadium if New York's Whitey Ford opposes Brooklyn's Roger Craig.

Brooks Capitalize In 'Big Way'

What happened after that was one of the most exciting stories in Dodger history.

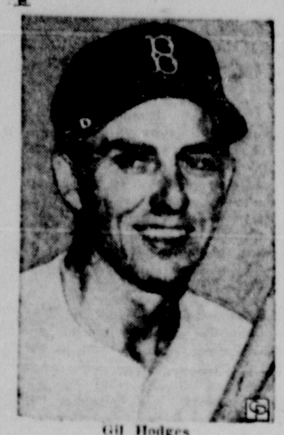

Don Larsen, Stengel's first laborer on the mound, walked Carl Furillo to load them up. Roy Campanella's sacrifice fly brought in Hodges but it seemed relatively unimportant. After all Yogi's blast had widened the Yankee lead to 6-0 in the top of the second and now it was only 6-1.

After pinch hitter Dale Mitchell fouled out, Stengel must have breathed easier in this ball park where the Yanks already had lost six of their last seven games.

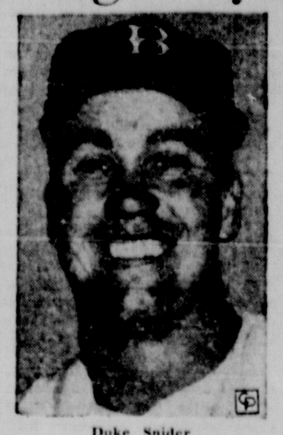

But Larsen walked Junior Gilliam, the second of three successive passes he drew, and Old Case beckoned to the bullpen. Before the day was over his arm was more tired than those of his pitchers.

Waves for Byrne

Johnny Kucks walked in to try to put out the blaze. Pee Wee Reese worked the count to 3-2, fouled off three and finally singled to left, driving in Amoros and Furillo. Now it was only 6-3. Stengel already had seen enough. He waved for Tommy Byrne, the veteran lefthander, to face Snider who is supposed to be a sucker for a southpaw.

Gil Hodges

Duke Snider

Snider swung at the first pitch and missed, and then hoisted a three-run homer far over the scoreboard in right center that put the Dodgers back in business at 6-6. The Yanks never did get ahead again.

Jubilant Alston To Pitch Craig Today

By TED SMITS

BROOKLYN, Oct. 5 (AP)—Walter Alston, jubilant manager of the high-riding Brooklyn Dodgers, plotted a crafty course tonight against the Yankees when the World Series shifts to the big Bronx ball park. He will send Roger Craig out to pitch tomorrow, and he still could use Sal Maglie, Clem Labine or even Don Newcombe on Sunday.

He refused, however, to be pinned down on his pitching choice for day after tomorrow, much less to say that he had the Yankees on the run.

"After all, they had us two games down last year, and we won," said Alston in a word of caution as cheers and shouts rang through the crowded Dodger dressing room, and flashlights made stabs of brilliant light.

Dodger Heroes

The three Dodger heroes of the day — Don Bessent, Gil Hodges, and Duke Snider—posed for innumerable pictures, but needed a little urging to hug and grin in warm enough fashion.

Gil is closing in now on a brilliant series record, nine runs batted in, by Lou Gehrig. Hodges now has seven.

"Lou's record will probably still stand up," said the modest Hodges wryly.

This was a great change in atmosphere for Hodges, who went hitless in 21 times at bat in the 1952 series.

Snider declined to tab his three-run homer in the second as the longest ball he ever hit although it soared out of the park only a little to the right of center field.

"I have hit 'em further," he said. "But I feel wonderful. It was a fast ball I hit."

Fast Ball Good

Bessent said his most effective pitch was his fast ball, and named Enos Slaughter, the 40-year-old outfielder, as the Yankee who gave him the most trouble.

"I threw a few curves, and used my change-up a few times," said Bessent. "I had good stuff and I didn't need to worry."

The big cushion of runs the Dodgers built up helped to ease his mind, too.

"Yes, this was one of my biggest moments," said Don.

Roy Campanella, the stocky Dodger catcher, agreed with his slender pitcher.

"He was real quick," said Campanella.

Asked if he felt bad at not getting a home run in the second when he came up with the bases loaded, Roy shrugged it off.

"I hit the ball out on the end of the bat," he said.

"When you can come from six runs behind against the Yankees it must make you feel good," someone told Campanella.

Feel Good

"When you can come from six runs behind anybody, that's a real long ways," he replied with a squealing laugh.

Manager Alston declined to put his finger on a particular turning point of the game.

"Hodges' two doubles—Snider's home run—there were a couple of turning points, really," he said.

Asked about the collapse of his big ace, Don Newcombe, who yielded a grand slam homer to Yogi Berra, Alston said.

"I thought Newcombe had good stuff, but he wasn't sharp with his control. He looked good warming up, but he didn't get his change-up in spots. I think Berra's homer came off a fast ball. That was a big jolt there. A lot of the time Newcombe has trouble in the early innings.

"But when a pitcher wins 27 games in the season you've got to go with him."

ESSTC Opens Home Football Season Today

Martin's Warriors To Face Shippensburg On Hill Field

HEAD COACH Eugene Martin unveils his 1956 East Stroudsburg State Teachers grid edition to the home folks today when the Warriors entertain Shippensburg STC on the Normal Hillers field, starting at 2 p.m.

ESSTC, winners over Millersville STC and Ithaca College in its first two outings, will be out to up its unbeaten record to 3-0 against the Raiders from mid-Pennsylvania.

Shippensburg will invade Warrior territory with a 1-1 log, including a victory over little college power, Shephard, W. Va. College last week.

The Raiders, usually a tough foe for the Warriors annually, operate from the T-offense with scatbacks running to the outside the main attacking threats.

Martin sent his proteges through strenuous workouts the past week, seeking a more adequate passing offense. Current plans call for the Normal Hillers to take to the air more in an attempt to get more balance in the Warriors short punt attack.

Same Lineup

The ESSTC mentor plans to go with the same lineup that showed such great success in its first two ventures. Starting at ends will be veteran Al Hoffman and newcomer Ed Adams. Playing the tackle berths will be Co-captain John Andrews and Walt Bjorn, a pair of seniors.

At the guard posts will be Frank Krystiniak and Stan Searfoss, fourth-year men, while at center will be senior Warren Davis.

Warrior Backs

The Warriors backfield will be composed of Jim Oplinger, junior quarterback from Northampton; Guido (Geets) DiTorrice and East Stroudsburg's own and Co-captain Dick Merring at the halfback spots, and Denny Roth at fullback.

Martin, who has used his full roster in the first two games, will have the good depth again available for today's skirmish.

PSTCC Tilt

The contest will go a long way in posting the Warriors' future position in the Pennsylvania State Teachers College Football Conference. A win, however, by either eleven, will put the victor in contention for 1956 PSTCC honors.

1,261 Payees See Eastburg At Bangor

BANGOR—A total of 1,261 persons paid to witness the contest of the Bangor Slate Pickers and the Cavaliers of East Stroudsburg at the Bangor Park Field last evening according to Paul LaBar, faculty manager of athletics at the Bangor Area School.

This amounted to a gross gate of $876.25. Expenditures were losted as $548.04, leaving a net for the contest of $328.21. Unfavorable weather according to Mr. LaBar was probably the reason for the record low gate for this annual contest.

Expenses

Among the expenses listed were borough tax 8 per cent,$470.10; light fund, $109.53; medical fund, $131.43; guarantee, $50; officials, $49; ticket sellers, ushers, $39; doctor, $20; cleaning of uniforms, $27.-20 and other incidentals, $51.78.

Trying To End Fight Telecasts

MILWAUKEE, Oct. 5 (AP) — A spokesman for the Pabst Brewing Co., sponsor of Wednesday night fights on television for the last six years, said today the firm is trying to sever its TV contract with the International Boxing Club.

The reason behind the move, the spokesman said, is that Pabst believes it is "losing prestige" because of recent boxing scandals.

Pabst's 52-week contract with the IBC runs through May 31, 1957. Discussions now are under way in New York to renegotiate the contract to conclude on Dec. 31, 1956.The Pabst-sponsored bouts are televised by the American Broadcasting Co.

Forecasts Cronin Next AL Prexy

BOSTON, Oct. 5 (AP)—The Boston Traveler says today it has learned exclusively that Joe Cronin, Red Sox general manager, will be the next president of the American League.

The newspaper says Cronin, busy denying reports he will lead the Washington Senators to California, is unaware that he is under consideration for the job.

The Traveler stoory goes on to say that the league's president, Will Harridge, will retire this year because of his wife's serious illness.

Strouds, Lake Harmony Meet In 2nd Runoff Tilt Tomorrow

LAKE HARMONY, one down in the Pocono Mountain League playoff finals, will attempt to even the best-of-three series tomorrow when they play host to the Strouds in a 2 p. m. contest at Lake Harmony.

The Strouds, the circuit's seasonal kingpins, and losers of only one game in 30 over-all games this year, will probably send ace right-hander Bill Sommers to the mound in attempt to wrap up the runoff crown.

Labosky Slated

Lake Harmony will probably counter with Pete Labosky, one of Clint Getz's mainstays all season when Lake Harmony cornered second place in the regular season drive.

The Strouds of Frank Radler are expected to put a lineup on the field consisting of Russ Staples, catching; Captain Dan Eppley, first base; Bill Shires, second; Paul (Doc) Lim, shortstop and Al McCormick, third.

In the outfield will be Ted Yuhas, left field; Charley Litts, center, and Randy Morris, right.

Tentative Lineup

Lake Harmony's starting array will have F. Getz, catching; Becker, first base; McGinley, second base; Dietz, shortstop; Wilson, third base; Warner, left field; Hill, center and A. Getz, right field.

The Strouds gained the finals by eliminating Saylorsburg, who finished third during the championship campaign, while Lake Harmony ousted No. Four finisher, Bushkill.

If a third game is necessary, it will be played a week Sunday at Saylorsburg, the home diamond for the Strouds during the playoffs.

'Iffy' Collegiate Football Teams Are Due For Severe Tests On Nation's Grid Today

The Associated Press

THE IFFY teams of 1956 college football—and which ones aren't at this stage of the season?—are due for some severe tests today as the season moves into the first real football month, October.

The upsets and erratic performances of September have left some doubt about the strength of such highly-rated teams as Notre Dame, Ohio State, Missouri, Southern Methodist, Texas A&M, Maryland, Georgia Tech, Army, Colgate, Yale, Cornell and others. All but Georgia Tech get chances to find the answers today.

There's little doubt, of course, that Oklahoma has lived up so far to the No. 1 rating is carried over from last season or that today's Michigan State-Michigan tussle likely will be an important factor in the Big Ten and national championship races.

Sooners First

Oklahoma's Sooners are rated first in the current Associated Press ranking poll of sports writers and broadcasters and are expected to hold that spot after meeting twice-beaten Kansas State in their first Big Seven game of the season. They opened last week with a 36-0 victory over outclassed North Carolina.

Michigan State (No. 2 in the poll) and Michigan (5) both looked impressive in opening victories over Stanford and UCLA, respectively. The winner of today's struggle before 101,000 spectators at Ann Arbor likely will become the favorite in the Big Ten, with only defending champion Ohio State to be reckoned with. Ohio's Buckeyes, minus Hopalong Cassady, take on Stanford in a game that offers the basis of a comparison with Michigan State.

Should Settle

The Missouri-SMU contest also should settle a few uncertainties.

Notre Dame has had two weeks to recover from its opening-game loss. Reports have it that Coach Terry Brennan has been thinking of using some single-wing plays, instead of the T, against Indiana today in order to make the fullest use of Paul Hornung's talents.

Texas A&M, top-rated in the Southwest but unimpressive in two victories, shouldn't have much trouble against Texas Tech. Maryland, beaten by Syracuse in its opener, tackles another Southwest power, Baylor. Duke, another early loser, faces all-winning Tennessee, which hasn't beaten the Blue Devils since 1951.

Q. Back Experiment

Army, again experimenting with quarterbacks, faces one of its strongest Eastern rivals, Penn easy winner over Cornell, meets Holy Cross while Cornell tries to come back against Navy, Yale, which barely squeezed past Connecticut, opens its Ivy League season against Brown, an easy 20-0 winner over Columbia.

Major games in the East include:

Princeton vs. Columbia, Penn vs. Dartmouth, Connecticut vs. Rutgers.

Green Wave To Make Bid For First Win

PEN ARGYL—Hoping to bring victory to the Green Wave, Coach Rudy Penza and his staff have been working at various offensive and defensive combinations, sticking mostly with the drive series.

Coach Penza is quite confident it will go if he can find the right offensive unit. One change being considered will be running Richard Rumsey at fullback in place of James Sandercock. However, Ronald Shipman is also pushing for the fullback spot.

Another Switch

Another switch was moving Verne Hahn to end from a tackle position. Carl Bone, ill for a few days this week, will probably run only on defensive, and in his place, offensively, will be Dominick Bet. At the other half will be Marlin Smickley.

The line offensively will be Edward Lugg and Verne Hahn, ends; Daniel Capazolla and Gary Stackhouse, tackles; Carl Schloug and Gary Schlegel, guards, and William Reggiero at the snap spot. The back field will most likely be Sam Lobb, quarterback; Marlin Smickley and Dominick Bet at halfbacks, and Richard Rumsey at full.

On the defensive platoon will be Arthur Edwards and William Reggiero, ends; Dan Capazolla and Duane Parsons, tackles; Robert Sparrow and Kenneth Reto, guards.

Secondary

In the secondary will be James Sandercock, Richard Rumsey, Carl Bone and Robert Frutchey.

"I realize that this isn't a complete new defense, but we are going to try to give the boys as much rest as possible."

The two platoon system, used in most schools that have the boys to run it, presents a faster game.

Shortage Of Boys

Pen Argyl, limited to only 23 boys on the varsity, has a program in trying to get 11 men to go each way. However, the staff still believes that the boys will "unload" this year and tomorrow may be the Saturday.

Waldorf Hopes 'Green' Boys Tests Pitt

BERKELEY, Calif., Oct. 5 (AP)—Coach Pappy Waldorf can only hope inexperience doesn't prove disastrous tomorrow when his California Bears test the best Pittsburgh football team since 1938.

Repetition of last week's blunders against Illinois would prove just as fatal against the experienced Pitt squad, which has defeated West Virginia and Syracuse and ranks No. 7 nationally in The Associated Press poll.

"Horrors"

California led Illinois 20-0 at the half but, in what Waldorf described as a "Chamber of Horrors," gave up four touchdowns in 6½ minutes of the third quarter. Fumbles were responsible for three of the six-pointers.

"The experience may make a football team out of them," said Waldorf of his Bears.

Back for Pitt this season are six of the seven linemen who started last year in the Panthers' 27-7 victory over California.

2 Good 2Bs

Pitt Coach Johnny Michelosen also has two good men calling signals for his split-T attack. Steady Darrell Lewis and flashy Corny Salvaterra are continuing their battle for the first-string job.

In styles the two teams are opposites. The Panthers choose to grind out the yardage while the Bears are a pass-minded crew.

California hasn't won a game this year, losing to Baylor and Illinois, but statistics indicate a vastly improved club over 1955.

32 First Downs

The Bears collected 32 first downs compared to 14 in the opening pair last year and 622 yards on offense compared to 322.

Pittsburgh's running attack, with halfbacks Dick Boyen, a 200-pounder, Ray DiPasquale at 174 and fullback Tom Jenkins, 192, will be tough to stop.

Bayer Still Leads

EL CAJON, Calif., Oct. 5 (AP)—Long-driving George Bayer of Grossinger, N. Y., took a 3-stroke lead at the halfway point in the $15,000 San Diego Open Golf Tournament today, 13 under par for the Singing Hills Course with a score of 131 for 36 holes.

It's Even Money On Second Game

BROOKLYN, Oct. 5 (AP)—It's an even-money bet on the second game of the World Series tomorrow.

The Yankees were favored 6-5 to take the second game had it been played today, but when rain forced postponement of the contest the bookmakers shortened the price on the Dodgers, figuring the extra day of rest benefits Don Newcombe, Brooklyn ace righthander.

And on the series it's still a pick-'em affair.

Connolly Tops Hammer Mark

BOSTON, Oct. 5 (AP) — Hal Connolly of the Boston A. A. bettered the world record for the hammer throw today with a tremendous toss of 218 feet, 10½ inches in a special event sanctioned by the New England AAU at Boston University Field.

Connolly's heave on his sixth and final throw surpassed the world mark of 217 feet, 9¾ inches set by Russia's Mikail Krivonosov last July.

Uclan Halfback Is Free On Bail

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 5 (AP) — UCLA halfback Gerry McDougall, 21, and a fellow student, Richard Molen, 23, were freed on $500 bail each on writs of habeas corpus today.

But the two still face four counts of petty theft. The writs are returnable to Superior Court next Wednesday.

The complaints, issued yesterday, charge McDougall and Molen with stealing a radio, record player and $6 from a former co-ed and with rifling girl's purses at a January fraternity party.

Here is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your future. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, substract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

YOU BORN TODAY are well balanced, logical and considerate of others. You may be too self-opinionated at times. This is usually because you have a rare insight into things and wish them to come out absolutely right. Reason patiently rather than force people to see your way—even though you are right. Keep developing your fine talents and general ability and use them for self and family betterment, for religious and community interests. You can ably handle a profession, religious life, or trade. Signal your preference and stay with it. Birthdate: Jenny Lind, famed singer.

Plainfield Civil Defense Explained

BANGOR — Neal Ruddy, of Plainfield Township, spoke on the area's Civil Defense program during the dinner meeting of Kiwanis Slub at the Colonial Hotel Thursday night.

Introduced by William Zackey, vice-president, the speaker explained that the organization is set up to help in the event of natural disasters. While people always are very willing to render assistance at such times, he observed that organization of such service is most practical.

Available

Schools, churches, halls, etc., he said, should be made available to the needs and first aid materials should be at hand. If organized, the federal government will pay half of the costs of first aid materials. In an area of the Bangor-Roseto size, 600 volunteers should be enrolled in the program and ready to assist.

Ruddy noted that the Slate Belt, identified as Sector three in the county, is headed by one director and six deputy directors. He also elaborated on other details of the organization and said that persons from the ages of seven to 80 can be used in the program.

James Drury presented the certificate of appreciation. Lt. Edward Knox offered the invocation. George Remagen was the song leader, Drury the pianist. It was announced that an inter-club meeting with Stroudsburg at Stroudsburg is to be arranged for later this month.

Vanderbush of West Orange, N.J., former coach of Bangor High School football teams in the early 1930s. His son is presently a member of the Bangor High School faculty and head coach of the school's basketball five.

Vanderbush, is presently an elder in his home church at West Orange and is one of the leaders of the YMCA organization in northern New Jersey. He will speak to the adult members of the church and others interested in attending. The Bangor church has issued a blanket invitation to his many friends and former students to come next Sunday.

Mrs. Gorman Roof, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Price Morris, and wife of Rev. Roof, executive secretary of the Lehigh Presbytery, will be the guest speaker for the children's division of the church on Rally Day. Mrs. Roof, who is an accomplished vocalist, and is noted for her many public appearances, agreed to return again this year to speak to the children of the church, upon invitation from the children themselves.

Complete plans for the Rally Day will be announced next week, since the committee is presently completing final arrangements.
